President's Message

By Dr. S. Tyler Shoemaker

Two years ago my wife and I went to Valley Forge where George Washington proclaimed, "unless some great and capital change suddenly takes place this army must inevitably dissolve or disperse." I was moved and became interested in what "capital changes" took place. Of the many that occurred, the change that struck me the most happened when a Prussian military officer named Friedrich von Steuben showed up from Germany and volunteered to train the sickly Continental Army.

As I recently dove into the 222 pages of this year's House of Delegates Agenda Booklet I saw pictures of SDDS men and women volunteers. On the Board of Directors, Dr. Bryan Anderson, Dr. Steven Waite, and Dr. Christopher Herzog and as Component Society Delegates Dr. Ashley Ulmer, Dr. James Valentine, and Dr. Sue Weishaar. I want to thank each of them for the time they are taking out of their personal lives to see to it that our profession doesn't "dissolve or disperse."

I was recently reminded that the House of Delegates is the, "supreme authority of the Washington State Dental Association." If we want to see, "great and capital changes" take place in our profession we ought to get to know our directors and delegates and share our ideas with them. We might want to pay particular attention to supporting Dr. Ashley Ulmer as she seeks to become a member of the WSDA Board of Directors.

The House of Delegates meets September 13 -15 in Walla Walla. If you've ever said to yourself that everything happening around you is inevitable and can't be changed, you might want to consider showing up for our professional cause, bringing your ideas to the table, and helping to make something great happen.

September General Membership Meeting

Tuesday, September 11, 2012

6:00 p.m.

The Lincoln Center

Hi everyone, and welcome back to reality. I am Dr. Steve Aeschliman, one of the Periodontists in a talented pool of dentists here in Spokane. I will be the first speaker this fall, and I would first like to recognize and thank Dr. Tyler Shoemaker for having me start out the new season, and to give extra thanks in advance for the time consuming and difficult work it takes to be our President. Congratulations to him, and to the other members of the SDDS board, and to Wendy...Thanks also to Dr. Chad Collins for doing such a nice job last year. Fantastic leadership Chad!

My talk on September 11th will be somewhat of a continuum of the great presentation we saw from Dr. Rod Tataryn on CBCT technology, and how it has changed his practice in endodontics. I will try to follow that with the changes in ideology that have occurred in my practice as a Periodontist, but I will have a very difficult task following him, as it was amazingly informative! In addition, I will share some thought that I have with regards to recent changes in my specialty, and how I think these apply to all of us. I will touch on the subjects such as bone and ridge preservation and development, soft tissue grafting, and periodontal classification. I will try to keep things pertinent to all of us, as we are all involved in our little dental worlds, doing different things, and having altering, sometimes contradictory ideas. That being said, we all can agree on some basics in order to enhance our patient's dental as well as systemic health, and I am going to try and enlighten the common ground that we all can share to achieve these goals. Let's all be there on the 11th, and show our support for our Society.

Kind regards,

Steve

CyberSecurity Available Through WDIA

As a dental office moves to digital record keeping, the more the possibility exists for cyber theft of personal patient records. A theft of client information involves a large amount of time taken by an office to contact patients as well as the expenses of possible lawsuits and state and federal fines. The CyberSecurity coverage available through WDIA will cover the expenses of notifying affected clients as well as fines, penalties and lawsuits associated with the security breach.

The CyberSecurity policy includes the following coverages:

- Privacy notification expenses, including the cost of health care records and credit-monitoring services for affected customers, even when state law doesn't require notification
- Crisis management and reward expenses, including the cost of public relations consultants, media releases
- Fines and penalties
- Written records and files
- Business Income loss and Extra Expense coverage for data breaches

For more information or a quote for coverage, please contact WDIA at

Ashley Ulmer for WSDA Board of Directors!

Please vote Ashley Ulmer for WSDA Board of Directors!

For the past year I have had the incredible opportunity to participate in the Leadership Institute of the WSDA. This program has given me a view of the various functions of our association and how effectively it works for our profession.

I hope to add a unique perspective to the board. Having recently started my own practice, I can relate to the challenges new dentists face and share the needs of new members in the association. I appreciate the support I have received from the great people in our association and look forward to carrying on that legacy of leadership.

See you in Walla Walla!

I am running for a position on the Washington State Dental Association Board of Directors. For the past year I have had the incredible opportunity to participate in the Leadership Institute of the WSDA. This program has given me a view of the various functions of our association and how effectively it works for our profession. Serving on the executive boards of Spokane's Dental Society and the Dental Society Foundation has provided me insight into the complicated issues that confront board members and prepared me to serve on the WSDA board. I hope to add a unique perspective to the board. Having recently started my own practice, I can relate to the challenges new dentists face and share the needs of new members in the association.

I appreciate the support I have received from the great people in our association and look forward to carrying on that legacy of leadership.

Thank you for your support!

Dental Waste

Many of the hazardous wastes generated in dental offices are subject to special disposal requires.

Those wastes include: amalgam, fixers, developers, chemiclave chemicals, x-ray film packets, and waste mercury. A few local resources for disposal include:

Able Clean Up Technologies 509.466.5255

Safety-Kleen 509.928.8353

Chem-Safe Environmental Inc. 509.968.3973

Please note that with all hazardous waste, the generator is legally responsible for any material from the time it is generated. Please investigate any company prior to entrusting them with your waste transportation/disposal. Also, be sure to properly label containers in which your waste is stored and include a description, write a date on the container and maintain records of any waste sent or delivered to a recycling/disposal entity and be sure to request a certificate of recycling or disposal.
